

Custom Software Development

We help you develop custom software to meet your business and research needs using current database and web technologies.

Leslie earned bachelors and maters degrees from Northwestern University.

She has been working in Information Services for 19 years.

Specializing in Web and Database Application Development

www.leslieconsulting.com
505 266 0426

Leslie Consulting

Our Services

Software Applications

We develop software solutions for business and research organizations. Many of these turn out to be database solutions. Where appropriate, we use the internet browser for the human interface.

We develop web applications both for the public “internet” and for in-house “intranets.”

Training

We provide training services in programming and web development technologies both directly to clients and through local educational institutions including UNM Continuing Education and TVI Workforce Training Center.

Geographic Information Systems

We are now offering GIS application development.

Our Clients

Combined Web and Database Applications

Sun Healthcare Group

Leslie Consulting, working with POD, Inc. and developed a 400+ page web site and in-house administrative tool that generates updates to web pages.

Zia Laser, Inc.

Leslie Consulting developed an in-house product tracking and measuring tool for use in both R&D and production of the company’s product.

UNM Institute for Public Law

Leslie Consulting added the database connectivity component to an online training product.

New Mexico School for the Deaf

Leslie Consulting is working with Panorama Point to develop a new web site for NMSD.

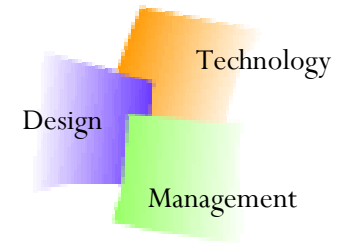

Web Applications

Native American CHATT / Dr. Debra Klecan, UNM

Leslie Consulting worked with POD, Inc. to develop a research tool for capturing students’ attitudes toward tobacco through storytelling.

Middle Rio Grande Water Assembly and Mid-Region Council of Governments

Leslie Consulting created dynamic web pages that present water plan drafts to organization members and collect feedback about drafts.

About the Company Logo

Leslie believes that successful projects result from a combination of three important elements: creative design, appropriate use of technology, and project management. The three-color logo symbolizes the integration of these three principles.

About Leslie

Leslie combines the skills of almost 20 years in information services to provide her clients with solutions that meet their needs. Leslie Consulting contracts with other qualified professionals where needed.

Leslie R. Kryder
www.leslieconsulting.com
Albuquerque, New Mexico
505 266 0426